LOCATION

The Kent is located at the corner of East 95th Street and Third Avenue on Manhattan's Upper East Side. Long favored by families looking for convenient access to Manhattan's elite schools, Central Park, and a quick commute to Midtown, the Upper East Side is defined by tree-lined streets and grand brick-and-stone buildings, the city's finest cultural institutions, parks and hospitals. The Kent's convenient location provides easy vehicular access to the FDR and local airports for family holidays, business trips and weekend getaways. An influx of residents looking to live in this coveted enclave of the Upper East Side has drawn new sought-after neighborhood amenities like a Whole Foods Market – and soon, the new Second Avenue Subway.

BUILDING EXTERIOR

Renowned architectural firm Beyer Blinder Belle is known for designing contemporary buildings that blend seamlessly into the rich history of their contextual surroundings. They are the architects behind many historic restoration projects throughout New York City, including the Empire State Building and City Hall. Extell has collaborated with Beyer Blinder Belle on their master renovation of The Carlton House Hotel into luxury private homes and a new development in West Soho, 70 Charlton Street. Beyer Blinder Belle has designed the architecture of The Kent to be reminiscent of New York City's Art Deco Movement of the 1920s. The façade of the building is constructed of classic brick and limestone, accented by metalwork paneling, and oversized windows, culminating with a series of steel and glass lanterns crowning the building.

INTERIOR DESIGN

Crafted by acclaimed interior design firm Champalimaud, the interiors of The Kent reflect the luxury and style of the Upper East Side. The residences echo the classic elegance of the neighborhood while incorporating an unexpected contemporary edge. Each residence has been meticulously designed to create elegant and intelligent living spaces and includes the finest finishes.
